

How Healthy is Your Supply Chain Security?

Consultants

Get your Supply Chain Security Assessment with LSA

The 'Health Check' performed by LSA Consultants Pte Ltd is an initial evaluation of your organisations supply chain security readiness benchmarked against current best practice. The LSA Consultants 'Health Check' involves a no obligation onsite evaluation of the customers supply chain security systems and a status report.

The LSA report can be used by companies as an initial step to gauge whether their security practices are adequate for its operations, nature of business and responsibilities to business partners and stakeholders. The LSA report will provide a foundation for the development of a 'supply chain security roadmap' for organisations to benchmark their own supply chain security practices, processes, policies and risk mitigation against recognised local or international standards.

Once developed, the roadmap can guide management actions based on informed decision making. This will ensure the optimum utilisation of resources to enhance supply chain security at a pace consistent with the organisations business goals, objectives and priorities.

Currently, SPRING Singapore provides generous funding to support firms who are keen to benchmark their supply chain security practices against the ISO 28000:2007 International standard for Supply Chain Security. LSA can facilitate the application process for organisations who wish to obtain the Government grant towards this certification.

ISO 28000 is an overarching management system which ensures a higher security functionality, operational efficiencies to reduce costs whilst increasing industry competitiveness and market share.

LSA Consultants 'Health Check' objects are designed to identify:
Process Efficiency | Compliance | Conformity | Risk Minimisation |
Best Practice | Financial Savings

As an introductory offer, LSA has discounted the Health Check at SG$449 for a limited time. As an additional bonus the Health Check cost will be refunded if the organisation engages LSA for consultancy services.
